In Memoriam
Donald G. Nutter, Governor of Montana

Throughout the United States aggressive leadership has shaken our complacent attitude and has given us a sense of urgency in accomplishing national and international goals. Montana was fortunate to have one of these leaders. Governor Donald Nutter provided the state with an attitude of awareness of all phases of state government. Perhaps there was not complete agreement in the ideas which he held or programs he proposed. This statement can be applied to any great politician.

A man with courage and conviction has always been admired and respected. Governor Nutter exemplified this type of man. He formulated his platform while campaigning and carried through with these ideas until tragedy interrupted his term.

In respect and remembrance of a great man, we dedicate this book to Governor Nutter and the characteristics of manhood which he represented.

Good Morning!

Through the day, increments of time take on an importance hard to surpass. Through the years we would like the pictures and thoughts here contained to take on the same importance.

Test today, huh?

through . . .

Fabulous day for Homecoming

Over the river and through the woods.

Watch it, girls.

The world fell in . . . No — wait . . . I knew it!
That blasted alarm clock . . . Where in the heck is it? Ah . . . I guess I can lay here a few more minutes . . .

"Hey! Aren't ya goin' to chapel?"

"Chapel! What happened to breakfast?"

"Oh Brother! Where are my shoes?"

"Hey roomie! What happened to my notes?"
one of these days I have just got to make it to breakfast . . .

First come Beanies, then comes. . .

Watch those Cats!!

When you get down to your undies, carry the game outside

Eeny-Meeny-Miny-Mo!

Mud's fine for the complexion!

Christmas assembly

Why in the world did I let them talk me into these eight o'clocks . . . I better get my head examined . . .

"Oh, Excuse me!"

Funniest thing . . . Never knew they put seats in the middle of the aisle . . . Ah . . . here's an empty one . . .

"Good morning, class. Please turn to the questions at the end of chapter twelve." Ump . . . should have sat farther back . . . Teacher makes like a lot of noise for sleeping . . .

Man! Don't tell me it's time to trot down to Reid for my next class! I've just got to stay awake this time . . .

Besides being pigeon-toed, he's got fleas.

My! My! What fine young gentlemen.

Mitch Miller will be proud of you.

day . . .

"How was lunch today?"

"OK, I guess."

"Say, I'm going to Westgate in about an hour. Want to come with?"

"Naw . . . I got a lab."

"Well, see ya later . . ."

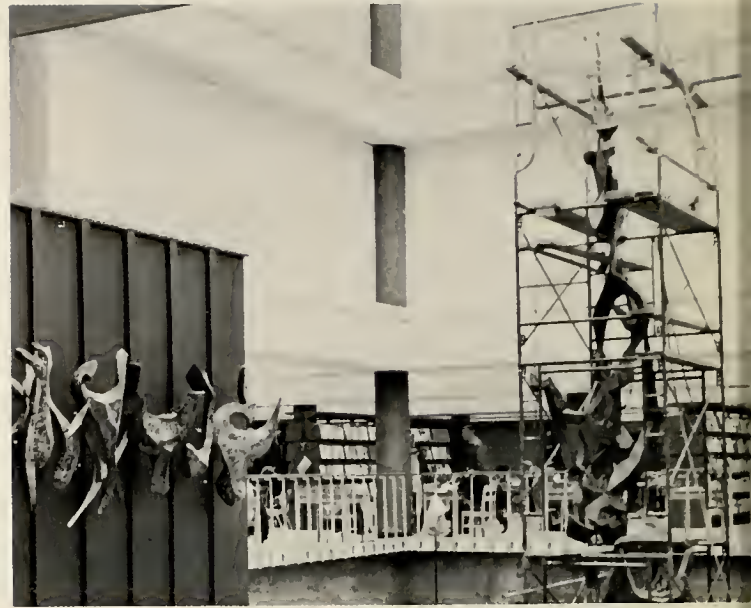

Ho! Ho! Ho! And it's off to lab we go . . . She-e-e Oh well, there's always coffee breaks! Think I'll go to the football game tomorrow . . . You know, I'm really getting brains . . . I've come to the conclusion that it always snows on the weekends. . . .

"No service without state I. D."

through . . .

Let's build a statue or something.

The only way to study

There's no place like home.

Now what was it that I was suppose to do after lab today? Meet for a coke date? No . . . meet . . . meet . . . MEETING! Whew! Gaad thing I remembered that. . . . Gad, this meeting is dragging . . . "Hey guys . . . We aren't getting much done. What say we break up and go eat. Think about this and have another meeting next week, OK?" Now to get back to the dorm for dinner . . . seems like I'm hungry all the time. . . .

Why are the Freshmen always out walking

Whistler's Mother rides again!

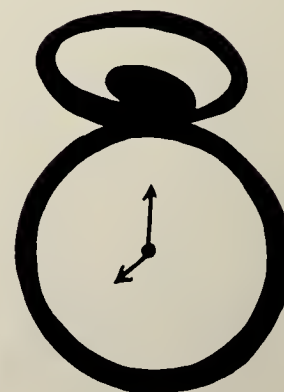

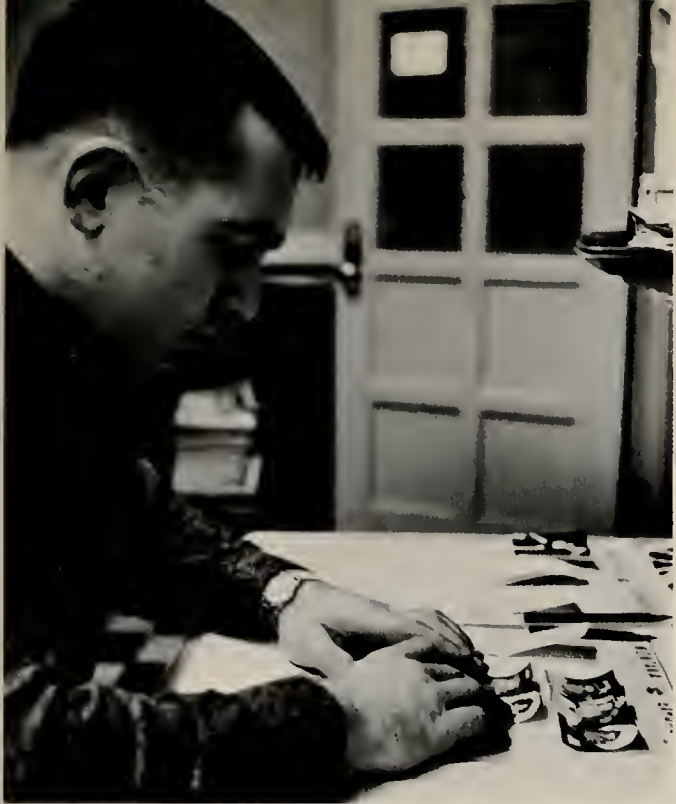

"Wanta check my shorts?"

If we both push, we can make it!

It's gettin' late, Fred!

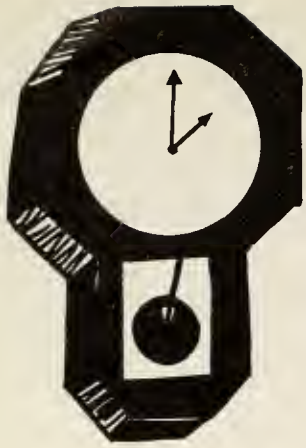

The big day

Lonely Hearts

Ah . . . that was GOOD?
 Holy Smokes! I better get ready . . . Got a date at eight . . .
 Hum-m-m. What shall I wear? Can't wear this . . . wore it
 Last date . . . Man! Problems, Problems, Problems all day lo-o-ng.
 "Hey roomie! Remember when and where that cocktail party is going to be?"
 "How 'bout the game last night? We sure wumped the tar out of old M.S.U. Huh?"
 Wonder what we'll do tonight? Probably go to the dance. . . .

Beauty prevails.

The Student's Choice

"Hi! How'd the big test go today?"

"Fine."

(Little private conversation exchange)

I wonder who's playing tonight. . . . They had better be good . . . I've got to make a good impression. . . .

I could have danced all night . . . too bad because they stopped playing . . . wonder what we'll do now. . . .

I have more brains! Boy, couldn't somebody make a mint by installing parking meters behind the field house?

Spirit

The faculty and administration at MSC have a dual role to fulfill and they shoulder the responsibility in a way which is truly indicative of their capabilities. After a busy week of lectures and administrative duties, they are called upon to chaperone all types of affairs. Their intellectual resources are also tapped as advisors of different clubs. The students have a right to be proud of the persons who are directing their studies.

administration & faculty

the president

For eighteen years, Dr. R. R. Renne has afforded Montana State College the firm and competent leadership it needed while the campus population more than doubled and many new and useful buildings appeared. President Renne's leadership is something of which both he and all Montana State College students can be proud. Through his foresight and capable guidance, Dr. Renne has given Montana State College an individual and academic character which identifies it as an outstanding institution.

President Renne

The reception line sometimes can seem like tedious work, but, . .

. . .the dinner afterwards is fair compensation for the time spent.

Dean Glynn

Dean Brown

student administration

Dean Esther Brown, Dean of Women Students, and Dean Val Glynn, Dean of Students, both display patience and understanding when dealing with any problem. These qualities make them both outstanding administrators on our campus. While fulfilling a multitude of services which are included in their daily work, both find time to give willing assistance to all students desiring their aid or advice.

I still don't know what we're going to do with that boy! Supermarkets and banks, now!

administrative officers

The job of coordinating school facilities, supervising the offices, and maintaining records are just a few of the many responsibilities taken on by the administrative offices of Montana State College. The products of the works of these men and women can be seen each and every day in the skillful organization and management of all school-affiliated services.

The State Board of Education and Ex-officio Regents of the University of Montana has general control and supervision of all units. The State Board of Education delegates certain duties to the Local Executive Board. These two boards and the administration of Montana State College are responsible for maintaining a high quality program of instruction, research and extension, that will meet the need of students and Montana people.

division of agriculture

Helping to raise the name of Montana State College, the Division of Agriculture has achieved the rating as one of the top research and teaching schools in the nation. Despite our great technological advances in the past decade, the students and faculty in agriculture recognize an ever-pressing need for newer and better techniques in ranching, range management, and farming. To this goal, the Division of Agriculture strides.

Dean Huffman

Quality control is the byword of the MSC Grain Lab.

Extensive dairy experimentation takes place at the college dairy farm.

An insight into the painstaking preparation of foods is gained in the Meats Lab.

Young women, as well as young men, are attracted to the field of Agriculture.

Very precise observation is necessary in this now specialized branch of study.

Since the time of the ancient Greeks, man has been searching for the keys to unlock the kingdom of knowledge. This is the job of the teacher now as it was then. The teacher must be able to offer his students these keys in such a way that the students will grasp them and start up the long path of learning. The department of education has the problem of giving the future teachers the combination to the vast mysteries surrounding the keys. Though education does not end with formal schooling, the basic knowledge imparted by the men and women of the teaching profession is the beginning which all education students need in order to reach out for the kingdom of knowledge.

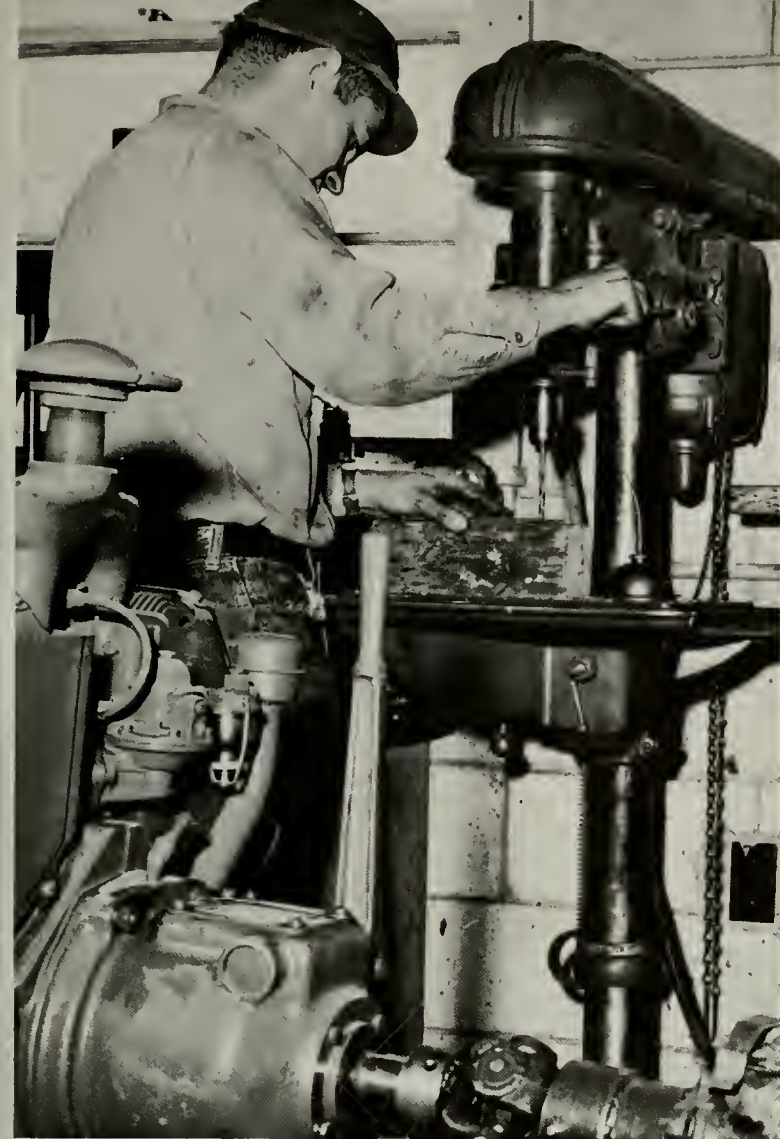

Dean Nickerson

division of education

The nursery is a valuable training place for "EE" majors.

Industrial Arts education is becoming of more value in our skilled society of today.

Library Science takes on new meaning with the partial completion of the beautiful new library.

For the last decade, every college of engineering has witnessed a tremendous influx in demand for trained specialists. In our modern, mechanized world, specialization has grown to heights never before realized. The engineering departments at MSC have kept up with this rapid increase in demand, and have traditionally given to the world above average graduates. Under Dean Schilling, these departments have enlarged in the number of students, and have encouraged a quality that can and does challenge any and all other colleges.

division of engineering

Field trips break the routine of classroom work for the Civil Engineers.

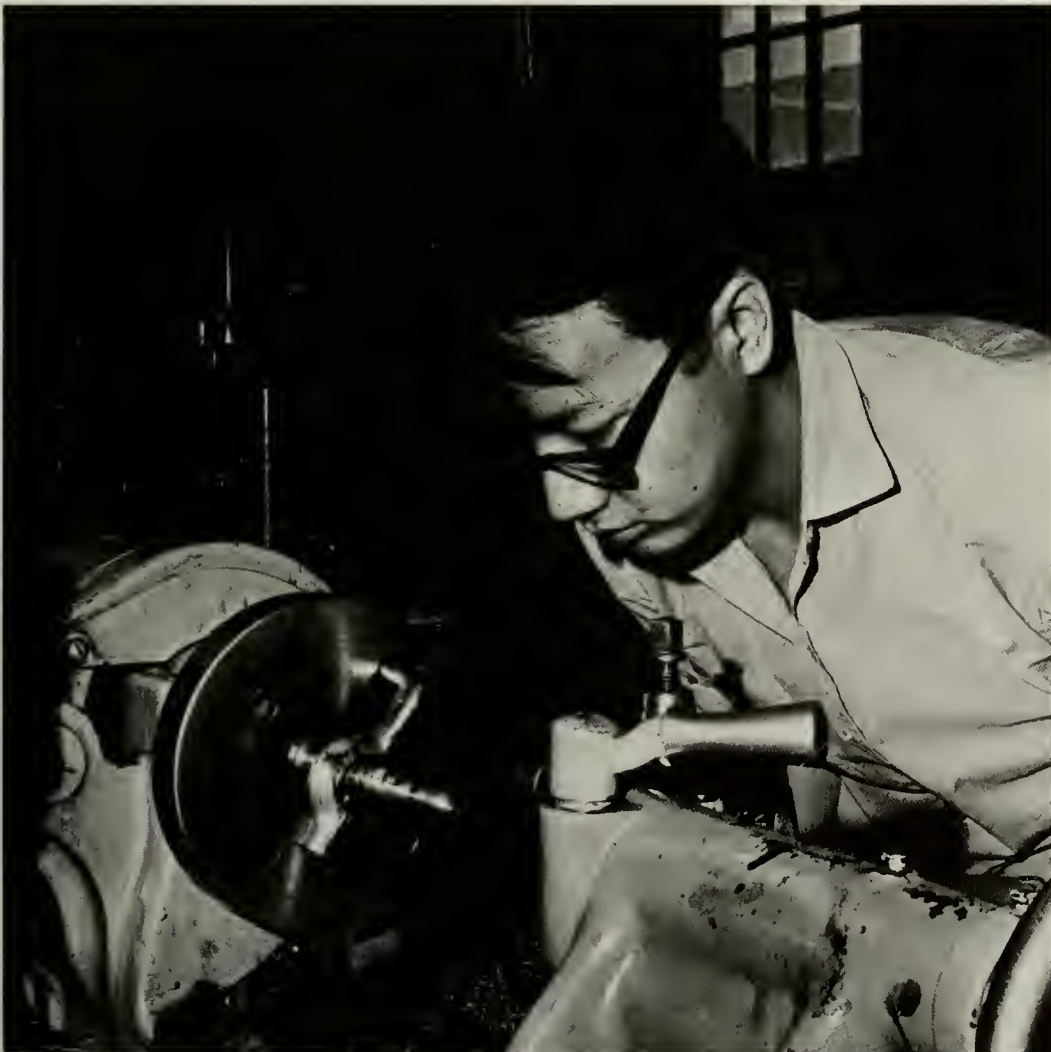

Lab work is an interesting and enjoyable phase of the engineering curriculum.

Dean Schillings

The operation of the lathe challenges the ingenuity of the student.

division of letters and science

Students find themselves engrossed in the observations in Chem labs.

The study of bacteriological sciences dictates many hours spent hovering over the microscope.

For the first time in the history of Montana State College, the Division of Letters and Sciences had the largest enrollment of any division. The trend of our society to require more from pure science reflects the increasing strength of this division. Also the demand of our modern economy for a broad education is shown by the growth of the general studies curriculum which is now the biggest in the division. Among the different phases of education offered to a student in Letters and Sciences are chemistry, zoology, botany, physics and mathematics. This broad field has a place for all students seeking a liberal and informative education.

Dean Bradley

Geology students take many field trips to study a variety of rock formations.

In this classroom in Lewis Hall the intricacies of nature at microscopic level are studied.

Dean Roskie

A great deal of social responsibility falls on the faculty in the Division of Professions. Preparing the architect, the nurse, the home economist; who must integrate the knowledge of many general education areas to bring forth the creativeness that is so important in our society. It is to such purposes that the men and women of the professional world are dedicated.

division of professions

Home Ec training gives students that little extra touch to help make them successful homemakers of tomorrow.

In the Student Health Service, nurses exemplify the product of our nursing curriculum.

The great wonders of art are daily occurrences in the MSC Art Department.

Under the watchful eyes of the Commerce instructors, students gain proficiency in typing.

students

Amid the frenzy of social activities and the tranquility of studies, the students of Montana State College emerge as the persons who exemplify the real collegiate spirit. Time seems to be ever lacking, but somehow all the requisites are accomplished and the student graduates into the everyday finals of life.

Each student at MSC is preparing to make his community, state, and nation stronger than it was during the previous generation. It is on these young and aggressive minds that the future of the democratic way of life depends.

Putting their best foot forward, these men and women step out into the sea of life after their preparation in the cove of education. These graduates hold in their hands the key to the future and the knowledge that they have obtained at MSC will be one of their guiding precepts throughout their lifetime. Congratulations and best wishes for a satisfying future.

Now joining the ranks of the elite society of the seniors, the 'Class of 63' has spent many hours with the Junior Prom and many other projects, such as, MR by JC. The leaders of our student body for next year have emerged to guide and direct the activities so more can be accomplished during their term of office. The rest of the class will provide the advice and hard work that will keep the spirit and tradition of MSC intact.

Chubby Checker and everybody!

The tranquility of the college setting is especially noticeable when snow highlights the beauty of our surroundings. Sometimes, to pause and recognize the beauty of the world around us gives us a deeper insight into our purpose in this lifetime. When we dwell on this to any extent, we find that what we learn in school will open many doors for us when we graduate. With this in mind we observe and then renew our efforts to make a success of our lives.

Beauty and tranquility are assets of our campus

Work in the college system is always in competition with social life to determine which shall consume the most time. Few students can ever arrive at the optimum formula for partaking in these activities. These conflicting goals play a large part in the frustration of the student. When frustrated, relaxation of the soothing agent, so the problem is thereby solved.

Classroom work breaks the monotony of classes.

In the spring, hearts become young again.

After one long year of school the sophomores can call themselves professionals in the art of being collegiate. They have spent probably the most rigorous year in school and now they can relax and take their time through the next three.

This year was characterized by fights around the fish-pond, Ralph Marterie for the Homecoming Ball and Roger Williams. It was spent in quiet contemplation during REW and the noisy, exciting twist. All in all, the 1961-62 school year is one that the sophomores will remember.

Working their way into MSC's social world, the lowly Freshmen have to suffer the embarrassment of being chained in front of the SUB, the torture of Saturday morning classes and worse of all the frustration of the stag line. All of these things combine to change the Freshman Week raw product into a sophisticated, fashionable collegian. All ready for their sophomore title, the Frosh are rapidly nearing the end of their formal education.

Although the main reason for attending MSC is to further scholastic abilities, much of our time is spent with activities. These are some of the most important steps to a complete education. Whether you are on the football field playing your heart out so the Bobcats will win or making a float for the Homecoming parade, you are gaining valuable training for a lifetime of working with people. Prolonged mental stimulation leads to frustration and activities are one way of releasing these tensions. The psychologists perhaps won't agree with that analysis, but students everywhere can't be wrong.

student activities

Elections, Queens, meetings and games all add to the activities whirl which all students find directly influencing their lives at MSC. Some people get involved to the extent that their major seems to be activities. The fun and work of college days will soon be left behind and the thing we do now will be our memories of tomorrow.

events

Throughout the year many note-worthy events have occurred. Some are humorous, some meditative and some combine the excitement of winning with the sorrow of losing, but each one demands remembrance in itself. We also must not forget the long hours of work that made each of the projects a success. So will be our life "on the outside."

I think I'll sign up for Alcoholism 406!

The beginning of the new school year was, as always, filled with the joys and excitement of meeting old friends and looking over the campus again. The senior men anxiously surveyed the new women to find a likely candidate for the new weekend, while the new Freshmen walked around in a daze. After the formality of registration and the painful expense of buying books, everyone settled down for some good hard work before Homecoming.

That leaves me with $.50 for the quarter.

Some Frosh who didn't like the Mayflower way.

This year's Homecoming was one of the most successful to date, if you like to watch football games in a snowstorm. Ralph Marterie's band provided real swinging music although it wasn't very "twistable." For people who had umbrellas, the parade was outstanding, especially the Buff float. The Variety Show was entirely staffed by students and the numbers were thoroughly enjoyed by the audience.

Now what do I do?

Cheerleaders clapping to keep their hands warm.

Smile! About this wide!

Many dances, rush parties and mid-quarter tests gave fall quarter the distinction of being one of the most social quarters thus far. Many new pledges were initiated into the institution of pledge duties and many queens began their reign. Between the excitement of dances and parties, the football games kept everyone in high "spirits." The snow started early and provided many people with an excuse to use their abusive vocabulary.

That apple certainly looks oll right to me.

Congrats to the Queen of Harvest Ball.

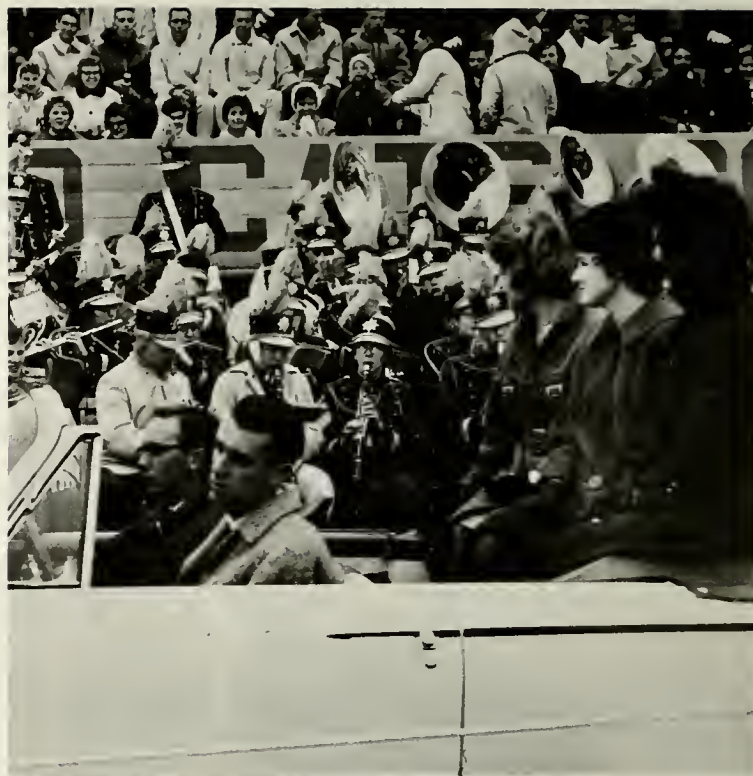

Maybe if I just stand here they'll go away!

It's about this sorority next door.

And we had a good school of architecture.

Sorry I ran over you, friend.

New records were set this quarter, including the highest number of students reported at mid-quarter in history. This was also a period of planning for the busy schedules that everyone has during winter vacation. The mixer business showed a decline in business.

The newest beer joint in town.

The Missoula Cha Cha!

Again the famous Grizzlies went down in defeat as the mighty bonfire medicine payed off. The spirits must have angered to a certain extent the weather could only be described by one word, soggy. The game topped off the Veterans Day holiday and left us with something else to remember. The mixer was especially well attended that night.

MSC student prepares to face the weather.

Ladies & Gentlemen! A ski meet will be held on this field immediately after this game.

The banquet honoring speakers and co-chairmen of R.E.W.

A panel discussion delves into religion today.

Dr. Floyd Ross speaks on courtship.

A look at the religious aspect of life was taken by students during the week-long Religious Emphasis Week. Speakers presented topics of discussion which varied almost as much as the change in climate they experienced while they were here. Many students participated in escorting the speakers, preparing schedules, and getting out publicity. A week of meditation is very helpful to student in attaining the spiritual guidance necessary for life.

I'm afraid already.

Pull the ripcord and see if it works.

I think I'll vote for him

I like posed pictures.

As Winter Quarter stretched on, a brief, but enjoyable break came during Pi Week. Some of the top entertainers on campus donated their labors to the Pi Kap sponsored March of Dimes Drive. If the pie eating contest was any indication of the hunger of the students, it could be agreed that no one eats anything until that day. The excitement then faded to be replaced by boredom as the quarter wore on.

Who, me?

This chow is really good.

Whatcha mean, the Schuss is closed?

Over the fields . . .
To the chalet for the weekend.
Neighbors never conform.

The Winner!

In cooperation with the townspeople, a very successful Winter Carnival was held this year. All types of contests gained full participation and many hours were spent in preparation. The Sigma Nu's won the fraternity snow sculpture and the AOII's won the sorority division. As a climax to a wonderful weekend of fun, Don Ragland and Karen Kirwan were crowned Snow King and Queen. Perhaps one of the most evident events was that the weatherman finally cooperated.

King meets Queen!

1001-1002-1003 . . .

A feeling of political belonging was stimulated through the constitutional election and a state of honor for our predecessors was attained in observance of Honors Day, both of which took place in close proximity. This was the year of great discussions about Model UN and other financial measures, all trying but falling short of their goal of appropriation attainment. Commemorating the first Honors Day was Dr. Strand, former president of MSC, who relived some of the events of yesteryear.

Our former president's Founder's Day address.

Did you say one dollar?

Along with an abundance of winter parties, entertainment was present in many other forms. The AWS Chinese Auction proved very successful as auctioneers Ken Bodner and John Lane turned in sparkling performances. M-Club's Buck Nite gave students a chance to relieve their frustrations through various means. Angel Flight made appearances throughout the basketball season and demonstrated the proficiency that only long hours of practice can afford.

Care for a second?

All right, someone's out of step.

Pleased autograph seekers.

Heralding the beginning of Spring quarter, Roger Williams appeared in the fieldhouse, performing to a very large crowd. His adept portrayal of the history of music was very much enjoyed by all as was his somewhat acrobatic routines in the keyboard. This presentation gave the students a chance to relax somewhat from the fervor of election races which occurred at the same time.

The first man of the piano.

Watch your blood pressure.

It seems to be about 250.

Competition with the Grizzlies was once again evident during the 1962 Blood Drawing. As in the past contests, MSU was left far behind as we reached our quota or 655 pints and had to turn people away. At this same time, the new president of ASMSC was chosen in a race characterized by many speeches and the never omitted campaign promises. The two men at the helm are Ed Harper, prexy, and Don Wolfe, veep.

I guess we'll have to put some back.

The Queen goes riding.

Thrills and spills combined to make the rodeo one of the best in years. The stock string supplied by Oral Zumwalt included many bulls and horses that had been at the National Finals. MSC eked out the championship by defeating Rocky Mountain College by a scant margin. Many special events were providing many laughs and much entertainment.

Gary Murphy — NIRA Champion Bulldogger, 1961.

They think it's just water we're drinking.

At least Bozeman isn't a one-horse town.

The big parade of Spring Quarter indicated that much time and effort was spent preparing floats and grooming horses. Sigma Chi won the fraternity contest, and Chi Omega copped the top honors for sorority floats. The Hilltop Hoedowners won the Independent class. Queen Barbara Crowe reigned over the entire rodeo activities.

We'll stamp out the Twist yet.

Money for a worthy cause.

Roll out the barrel.

The judge is my dad!

The Little "I", sponsored by the Ag Club and under the capable managing of "Bud" Banderob was again a success. Students exhibited their ability to train and show all types of animals. The Heart Drive, conducted by the Sig Ep's and the Chi O's was a success, as was the Sig-Alpha Olympics.

A first in history.

The opera, "The Maid and the Mistress."

Greek Week was one of the last big events during Spring Quarter winding up what could be called a very educational and entertaining year. Sometimes school seemed dreary but something always happened to put the sparkle in the eye and spring in the step of the student so he could soar to prior unattainable heights.

Muscles strain during Greek Week.

student government

Political forces at MSC find an outlet through student government. Through Student Senate, AWS, MRA, and WRA aspiring leaders have a chance to further their ambitions. All of the pertinent student body decisions are made in these governing bodies and much social benefit is about the only reward for the work done.

Prior to the obtaining of an ice cream cove and heading off to Reid Hall, much work has been done to lay the groundwork for the Student Senate Meetings. Personality and physical beauty combine to make our royalty outstanding caricatures of MSC students as a whole. Sometimes the roles they must fill are time consuming and at other times they are very exciting, but these people seem to hold up well under the strain. performers

Hours and hours of practice go into every production that students present. Along with the readily recognizable group efforts, many individual performers should be lauded for their efforts. This year's drama department tour is an example of the sacrifice necessary to develop and use talent. Many of the students that went had to forgo graduation with their class.

1961-62 was a very active year for the MSC Debate Squad. They sponsored two major college tournaments, The Third Annual Treasure State Tournament and the Pi Kappa Delta Provincial Tournament and helped sponsor two high school tournaments, the Fall High School Clinic Tournament and the high school District Tournament.

Now that we are here, where are the horses?

The 42nd time and it's still worth it.

From over 80 college and university theatre departments, Montana State College was selected by the United States Organizations and the American Educational Theatre Association for an entertainment tour of the Pacific Military Command. The hilarious comedy about race horses, Three Men on a Horse, was chosen for presentation. The tour began February 8 and terminated April 7. During that time the fifteen students and faculty members of the troupe traveled over 30,000 miles and performed at military installations in Hawaii, Japan, Okinawa, Korea, Formosa, and the Philippines.

Such concentration and so high off the ground.

Why of course we keep all that money in the little tin box.

Summer Theatre was interesting for those participating. Last summer all the productions were staged in "theatre in the round." The actors played their roles in about a twenty-five foot area, with the audience seated around them. The plays presented last summer were Janus, The Bad Seed, The Glass Menagerie, and the Pleasure of His Company. The plays were enjoyed by townspeople and tourists alike. Each play ran for two week-ends with six performances. There were two guest directors working with the summer theatre. They were Dick Patterson and Chuck Billings, who worked with Joe Fitch to produce a summer of entertainment and education for those who participated and those who watched.

You're never go'n find them shoes.

But Mother, if only he would ask me out.

Now Norman, must you do all those little boy things?

The Montana State College Theatre group began the 1961-62 season with the comedy production "The King of Hearts," under the direction of Joe Fitch. This was a comic situation involving a cartoonist, Larry Larkin, played by Roger Woodruff and his secretary, Dunreath Henry, played by Judy Langworthy. Complications arose when the hiring of Francis X. Digman, played by Mark Monson, a ghost writer for the cartoonist. The setting for the play was designed by Ted Hipley. Ted did a remarkable job of staging the scene in Larry's apartment, which added much to the atmosphere and the success of the production.

So you think you can solve her problem!

The Greek tragedy ANTIGONE replaced the usual humor of the stage for a short period during fall quarter. The role of Antigone was played by Sue Oliver, a freshman in her first MSC production. Clarence Brammer of the MSC English department did an excellent job in the role of Creon, King of Thebes. The part of the 30 member chorus was adapted for a single person and ably filled by Roy Upham. Under the direction of Bryce Missel with set design by Hal Elliston and lighting by Glen Porter, the play was well received by capacity houses.

THREE MEN ON A HORSE was the amusing comedy of three horse-betting gamblers. The cast consisted of thirteen notable people from the theatre group. Carl Smith traveled from Massachusetts to play the part of Patsy. Marty Lee and Larry Daw returned to MSC and were cast in the parts of Mible and Clarence. Joe Fitch and Ted Hipley directed and advised the production of the comedy. The comedy was a joyous success with good student participation and enthusiasm as the tour left for the Orient.

Works performed include Bach's CANTATA 76, plus selections from the Broadway musical THE MOST HAPPY FELLOW. The group sang for the 40th anniversary of Kiwanis in Anaconda, for the Sons of Norway in Havre, and was invited to Century 21. In the spring they presented an all Mozart program. Each member has been a soloist during the school year.

publications

Deadlines, bills, printers and various other types of problems confront the students that are dedicated to informing and entertaining the college public. Many hours a day are sacrificed for the completion of the six major publications. The Exponent staff fights a weekly deadline covering the campus news, while literary efforts of the Prospect writers are revealed on the printed page once a quarter. Also once a quarter, the two professional journals, the Montana State College Farmer and the Montana Engineer, give excellent technical advances in their respective fields. The Handbook provides valuable information to all new students. It is then the task of the Montanan to record these activities for posterity.

New industry and progress in Montana comprises the theme for this year's "Engineer." The staff feels that the Minute-man missile sites, new dams, and highway projects are of importance to everyone living in Montana. They are advocating more technical articles in the quarterly magazine by members of the faculty. The basic purpose of the "Engineer" is to keep abreast of the latest industrial developments and techniques, and to bring these to the students. The staff consists entirely of engineering majors in undergraduate schools, with the assistance of faculty members in the engineering fields.

Montana State's fine coaching staff piloted the Bobcats to another successful season and evened the score for last year with a 10-9 defeat of the Grizzlies before a shivering but crowded stadium. The final season record was 4 wins, 3 losses, and one tie. The coaches will lose 12 seniors by way of graduation, but are looking to 10 of the 11 men on the second team to return plus a fine Freshman team to help the team to another of their usually fine records next year.

Bobcat tacklers swarm a South Dakota ballhandler.

The Cats look on as a pass sails true to its receiver.

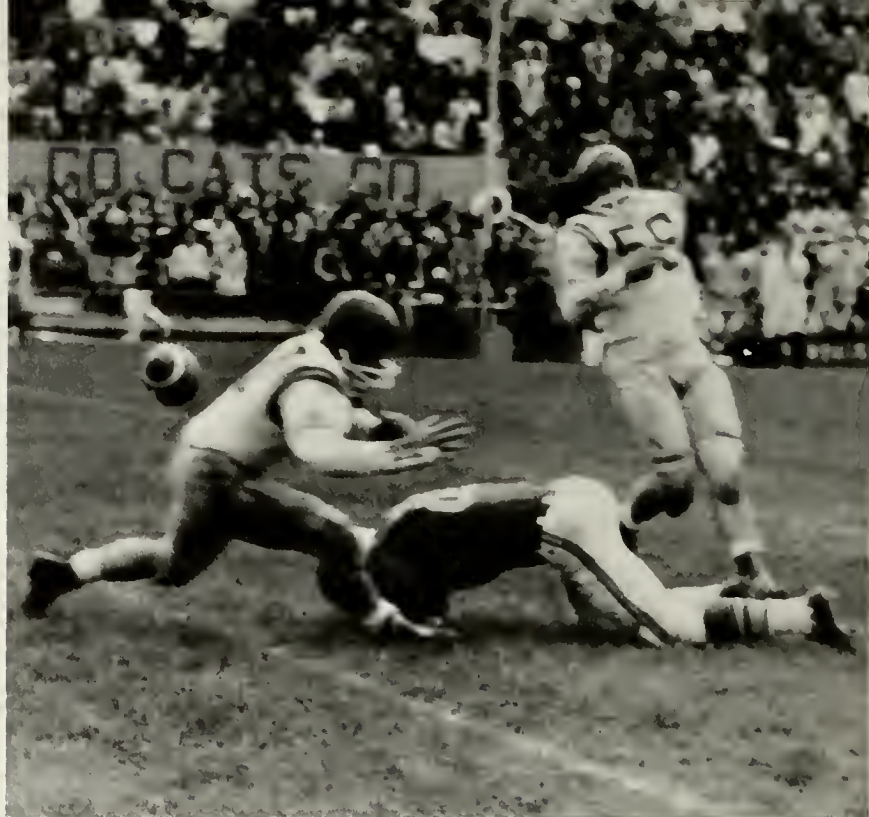

Starting the season on the road, the Bobcats immediately made two entries into the loss column. The season's opener with North Dakota University gave the Cats lots of room for improvement as they were overrun 46-0. This was mainly due to the efforts of a NDU bench-warmer who threw three touchdown passes and ran for another.

MSC's tangle with Fresno State at Great Falls gave FSC revenge for their one defeat during the 1960 season at the hands of MSC. This 16-13 thriller was close all of the way, and bad weather hampered the overall ball handling efforts.

football

The Cats put together their first winning drive of the season to trim South Dakota State 17-12. A 57-yard run by Jack Cameron and a TD pass to Cords from Mulcahy accounted for the main points of the game. Phil "the toe" Schneider insured the victory with a 23-yard field goal. MSC rallied with a sturdy defense and an early touchdown to squeak by Arkansas State 9-6. Again kicking specialist Phil Schneider made the difference with a 15-yard field goal.

Charging on to their third victory, the Bobcats smashed North Dakota State University 35-0. A sturdy defense and an irrepressible offense made the Cats almost impossible to stop. Homecoming was topped off by a snowstorm and a stronger than expected Augustana team causing the Bobcats to settle for a 6-6 tie. Fumbles plagued both teams, and for the most part, the game developed into a defensive struggle after the first period.

A hand off at the precise time makes a few extra yards.

The Bengals of Idaho State edged the Bobcats 14-12 at their Homecoming game. The loss came after two final quarter attempts which were successfully withstood by the Bengals. This game was played under the handicap of snow on the field. After this tilt the Bobcats were ranked 18th in small college ratings.

bobkittens

With an almost record turnout numbering 65, Coach George Marinkovich faced a three game schedule.

The Kittens opened the season with a 6-0 loss to Western Montana College. The action was hampered by snow and rain. Also against the Kittens was their lack of practice, as they only had one week to prepare for this contest. Inexperience and trouble with getting the offense rolling were the main factors in the 12-17 defeat suffered at the hands of the MSU Cubs. The final game of the season with Northwest Community College also spelled defeat for the Frash with a score of 20-8.

The veterans of last year Tom Sawyer, John Bryant, Pete Carson and Gordon Haugen provide a good base for the 1962 season and helped the team to a credible start for the season. The openers brought some top teams in for competition and gave the Cats a good foresight of things to come. Washington State was one of the first big conquests of the season. The Cats trounced them 69-58. Excitement also came during the Christmas Vacation when MSC drubbed Tennessee A&I 107-97.

Coach Lambert, between rousing appearances at Pep assemblies, built his winning combinations and played them to their uttermost. Rus Powers began turning in tremendous crowd-pleasing defensive efforts and the rest of the team continued their balanced style of playing. The MSU team and Coach Frosty Cox were taken by surprise after having defeated the Cats twice when the tables were turned.

Horton takes the corner and goes in.

With the end of the season comes the analysis of the records and praise being given. Praise, however, should not be extended to a few of the players, but all of those true athletes who give of their time and ability for our school. Praise should also be given to Coach Lambert who faced many problems this year and tackled them with gusto. When critics appear let them answer the question, "How many games have you attended this year?"

Work and pleasure go hand in hand in the fraternity and sorority houses at MSC. The number of campus leaders and scholastic wizards that come from the Greeks on the hill and show positively that many of the criticisms they receive are totally unfounded. Parades, coffee hours, intramurals, and studies occupy most of their time and the rest seems to be consumed by other types of activities. Community projects, such as Pi Week, sponsored by the Greek's, help the public relations at MSC immeasurably.

Sandra Snortland was Commissioner of Social Affairs in Student Senate. Leading the enthusiastic Bobcat fans was Pam Mayer, Cheer Queen and Susan Bohart, cheerleader. Sherry Rakes was a twirler. Kay Woldvedt was Pi Kap Dream Girl. The Kappa Deltas received second place on their Homecoming House Decorations and their snow sculpture "Paul Bunyan and Babe." The girls at 5th and Cleveland had the distinction of being the only sorority on the hill with houseboys! The Phi Sigs have increased their ranks this year with their house being filled to the maximum. Fall quarter was by far the busiest quarter yet, highlighted by their Maan-light Ball and the Fall Fireside. Winter quarter the annual winter formal was combined with the Phi Sigs Founder's Day. The result excelled all expectations of attendance and excellence. The pledge fireside again turned out to be the best of the year. The Phi Sigs, while strengthening membership, have greatly strengthened their scholarship this past year ranking second or third among the ten fraternities since winter quarter 1961.

pi beta phi

Once again the Pi Beta Phi sorority maintained high scholastic standings. Their annual Derby Dance was highlighted by crowning Fred Turner as "King of the Hill." Pi Phi members were active in various organizations. Gary Blackman was president of AWS and Joan Keene served a year as Sophomore Class President.

Again this year, the Pi Kaps did an outstanding job on Pi Week. Denise O'Connor was chosen to reign over Pi Week. At the spring party the Dream Girl of Pi Kappa Alpha is chosen. After many hours of work these men should feel very proud of their accomplishments. The adage "all work and no play" doesn't hold true in this case as many parties highlighted the year.

sigma alpha epsilon

The name Sigma Alpha Epsilon will always recall an image when mentioned in later years. To some the name will recall memories of fierce competitors in all athletic sports and a strong influence in college politics, others will recall the Pajama Dance, Sig-Alp Clympics, and the trusty old bus, Minerva. The name will remind one that it is the only fraternity on campus with a full-time house-mother, "Mom" Orman. Whether it is through the voices of the "Little Sisters of Minerva," the Fabulous Four, or the proud parents on Mother's Day, all will be reminded of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Little Sisters of Minerva began on this campus in the spring of 1960 and nationally a year or two before. Girls are chosen on the basis of their college activities as well as their interest in the activities of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. Throughout the year the girls act as hostesses for teas and dinners as well as helping with projects and programs of the fraternity. This past summer five of the girls attended the national S A E Convention in Yellowstone National Park where they aided in the activities of the week.

After a temporary residence in Hamilton Hall, the Sigma Chi's moved into their beautiful new house at 722 Wilson. Along with much time spent painting and moving in, they found time to have many social functions. From the annual Christmas Party for Bozeman kids to the well decorated Winter Party and the frolicsome spring party, the Sigma Chi's were kept busy. This year they also finished first in the intramural program.

Sigma Nu once again showed that it is one of the growing "new" fraternities on campus. The men have been an important part of campus activities. The social interests were demonstrated in the All-Sorority Tea and the Sigma Nu Follies. The men held key positions on campus in the Student Senate, W.U.S., and in many other activities which have shown the leadership qualities of Sigma Nu.

The newest fraternity on the hill, Sigma Phi Epsilon, was installed by the Grand Chapter as an active chapter in Sigma Phi Epsilon on April 22, 1961. They worked hard to achieve this goal. The Sig Eps started the year off right by again winning first place in the Men's Homecoming Float Competition. Jeanette Boyd was chosen as Queen of Hearts at the first annual Queen of Hearts Ball and La Rae Reynolds was chosen as Diamond Princess for the year. Sig Ep is growing with MSC.

Elaborate pins, nation-wide membership, and selectivity are all qualities of the honoraries at M.S.C. They offer the student a satisfaction that cannot be surpassed by any other rewards ever given. They stand as a separate, special type of organization to any student. A hearty congratulations for a job well done is deserved by all members of all honoraries.

This honorary composed of seven Senior men is traditionally one of the most cherished rewards standing at the end of the college career. These men uphold the fine traditions at MSC and instill in the Freshmen the flame of school spirit. Money is raised through the selling of Bobcat pins to finance their distinctive blazers. They also conduct the annual "State of the College" assembly at which President Renne gives an insight into the conditions of the college.

Let's go to the Bears Den!

activities in action

During the school year many of our hours are seemingly absorbed by activities. Each of us give gladly of the time and effort that it takes to make groups functional. We laugh together, and acquire knowledge together.

As we become more developed, we discover that perhaps the greatest thing in the world that is ours is friendship, and this comes only through understanding people.

You ain't seen nuttin' yet!

activities in action

Honey, I'd do anything for you!

But, Chuck, you are my date!!

They're so scarce we have to chain them down!

We really eat this up.

At least we'll be ready for the next panty raid!

All clubs must have a source of revenue and these sources are in the weirdest places. Shoe shines, ugly man contests, and carnivals lead the parade of mercenary advances.

Although many of these money-making campaigns are carried on with the intentions of helping the organization, much of their efforts are spent in public services. Both spirit and friendship are by-products of this type of action.

activities in action

Gaiety, laughter, and frivolity reign when studies are taken care of as some students turn to horse-play and others to the pursuit of the opposite sex. Here is where the real challenge of life exists for a good share of our campus populations. To these students, coffee hours, exchange dinners, and beautiful buildings, such as the fieldhouse after dark, represent some of the best times of their lives.

Take your cotton-picking hand off my cookie.

And two hours until 1:30

And the band played on and on and on and on.

No . . . it's not the continental.
No . . . it's not the twist.

Different cultures and customs enter into the picture at MSC through activities. Speakers and demonstrations add considerably to the students' knowledge of foreign lands and also accentuates the history of our own country.

Why, they're all leaving.

Operating as almost a separate unit, the nurses at Montana State College leave after completion of their freshman year and complete their training at one of the two hospital training centers. Taking on the semblance of a miniature student body, these students do much to spread good will throughout the state.

The quiet corridors, the busy lounges, and the understanding housemothers will long be remembered, as will the frequent visits to the home campus. Many acquaintances are gained and many friendships drifted, but for the persons that have donned the white of the nurses uniform the rewards exceed the losses.

"The Store with All the New Young Men's Fashions"

Schools and Progress

The men who founded this nation, authored its Constitution and Bill of Rights were the best educated men of their day—thinking men of vision.

And, every major advance in the development of our country since has come from men and women equipped by education.

It follows that the care of progress is the school room, the college classroom. It is there the imagination of youth gains the intellectual discipline that turns it into useful thinking.

So from the educated of today will come the better things of life tomorrow.

Engaged in a program of educational aid is

I have been all the time I wish a good time with a good friend. I hope you like missing me. I should be good to you. I have been all the time I wish a good time with a good friend. I hope you like missing me. I should be good to you. I have been all the time I wish a good time with a good friend. I hope you like missing me. I should be good to you.

Autographs

Dear Lew,

I have enjoyed ~~you~~ tremendously my pen isn't having you for a roomy. EXCUSE my printing but it doesn't seem to work writing.

AS I SAID, I HAVE ENJOYED
 YOU TREMENDOUSLY YOU KNOW EVEN THOUGH YOU
 HAVE A FEW FAULTS WHICH WERE QUITE
 AMMUSING. I HOPE YOU WILL GET YOUR
 "RN" WHICH WILL NO DOUBT GIVE YOU YOUR MENTAL HAPPINESS. NO,
 I THINK YOU WILL MAKE A TREMENDOUS NURSE.

I HOPE YOU WILL BE MY NURSE SOMEDAY,
 IN THE FAR FUTURE!
 I'LL PROBABLY END UP IN THE ARTIST'S HOME FOR UNDER PRIVILEGED ARTIST'S WITH NO TALENT.

I HOPE I'LL GET TO SEE YOU THIS SUMMER AND HAVE A FEW SOCIAL GET-TOGETHER'S.

I ALSO THINK YOU ARE
 A TREMENDOUS (WORD FOR THIS WEEK)
 UKELELE PLAYER AND
 NO DOUBT YOUR TALENT
 WILL LEAD YOU TO A WON-DERFUL CAREER IN THE GOLDEN ARM COFFEE HOUSE.

WE HAVE HAD ~~you~~ & MISTAKE
 A LOT OF FUN THIS YEAR AND HOPE WE WILL HAVE SOME MORE!

WORKING BUT THIS ONE IS.

So I guess this is about the end of my fourth of July speech. No,
 I have had really a lot of fun Lew and I hope you did too.

~~My~~ & MISTAKE

Well, good luck to you and I wish you all the happiness
 in the world.

I have finally written something and mailed it.
 Now don't forget
 and not write,
 you had better
 you know.

ADDRESS -

604 8th Ave. Room.

Bye for now -

Just me,

Sharon

To Pennie:
- this summer
my life - would have - seen hell without you - how can I possibly tell you how much you - enjoyed you - has knowing you - being with you - a sharing your life - Pennie - it been fabulous - and you are very dear to my heart - I wouldn't be a friend in trust & believe in - whom I my whole being gone - I'm getting - Take sentimental - ? Jim don't write me -
Love you -
None.

Pennie's from Heaven!

In Memoriam
Donald G. Nutter, Governor of Montana

Throughout the United States aggressive leadership has shaken our complacent attitude and has given us a sense of urgency in accomplishing national and international goals. Montana was fortunate to have one of these leaders. Governor Donald Nutter provided the state with an attitude of awareness of all phases of state government. Perhaps there was not complete agreement in the ideas which he held or programs he proposed. This statement can be applied to any great politician.

A man with courage and conviction has always been admired and respected. Governor Nutter exemplified this type of man. He formulated his platform while campaigning and carried through with these ideas until tragedy interrupted his term.

In respect and remembrance of a great man, we dedicate this book to Governor Nutter and the characteristics of manhood which he represented.
